Dispersed Camping

The traditional form of car camping, where you head out to public lands and find yourself a nice spot to spend the night! Over the next two years, campers should expect to see many of the traditional dispersed camping areas around Crested Butte switch to designated camping.

Reminders

- ▲ Be aware of private or conserved land
- ▲ Pack out all food and waste
- ▲ Only camp/park on durable surfaces, and camp 100ft from water
- ▲ If you find yourself camped or parked in the middle of a beautiful meadow filled with wildflowers, you are doing it wrong, regardless of how cool it looks on Instagram!

Designated Camping

Camp in sites that have a post with a campsite number, metal fire ring, and parking spot.

Regulations

- ▲ Camp only at numbered sites
- ▲ All sites are first come first serve, with a 14-day maximum stay
- ▲ Fires are only permitted in the established metal fire rings
- ▲ Sites are limited to two vehicles only per site
- ▲ No site saving—it is illegal to leave property unattended for more than 24 hours

Established Campgrounds

Several established campgrounds exist that are managed by federal entities or privately owned and offer significantly more amenities. They require a nightly fee, and some can be reserved in advance. Many of these campgrounds offer water, toilets, showers, tent pads, picnic tables, RV hookups, and other amenities.

Private Campgrounds and Other Lodging

The Gunnison Valley is home to a wide variety of lodging options, from quaint inns and hostels to major hotel chains, RV resorts and private campgrounds.
